Welcome to the 118th Annual Meeting

This has been an eventful year in the life of the Texas State Historical Association, and now it is time for all of us to make plans to gather at the Wyndham San Antonio Riverwalk Hotel for our 118th Annual Meeting. Thanks to a major new initiative funded by the Summerlee Foundation, TSHA membership is growing with each passing month. The TSHA Press has published several important new books this year, and the new Texas Almanac is hot off the press. Our innovative programs for teachers and students at all levels continue to ensure that the next generation of Texans will appreciate our state’s rich and unique history. The Southwestern Historical Quarterly remains the scholarly journal-of-record for Texas history. The Handbook of Texas Online continues to get bigger and better with the passage of time, and the latest Handbook spinoff, The Handbook of African American Texas, has just been published. If that were not enough, at the Annual Meeting we will be formally announcing what is surely the Association’s worst-kept secret: the commencement of the “public” phase of our $10 million comprehensive fundraising campaign, A Future for Our Past. As this program goes to press, we are pleased to announce that we are already well beyond the $4 million mark on that campaign.

As president, and as an academic member of our Association, I often field questions from members concerned that our many public-outreach programs and the fundraising efforts necessary to sustain them might dilute the scholarly core of our mission. A glance at this year’s program should lay any such concerns to rest. Forty-four sessions will explore virtually every topic and era of Texas history. Sessions on military, political, religious, legal, labor, medical, environmental, business, sports, and Borderlands history offer something for everyone. In keeping with the location for the meeting, no fewer than fourteen sessions focus on Spanish, Mexican, or Tejano history. Twelve sessions are devoted all or in part to women’s history—surely a TSHA first. African American and Native American history are both the subjects of multiple sessions. And for the traditionalists among us, there are sessions on the Texas Revolution and Republic, the Mexican War, the Civil War, Reconstruction, the cattle industry, and LBJ. Joint sessions with a number of partner organizations round out our program.

Special events begin at noon on Thursday, March 6, with the Women in Texas History Luncheon, where Elizabeth Hayes Turner will speak on “Lion in the Texas House: The Political Performances of Senfronia Thompson,” and the Liz Carpenter Award will be presented. On Thursday evening, the Presidential Reception at the Witte Museum will welcome incoming TSHA President John L. Nau III. On Friday at noon, the Fellows Luncheon/Awards Banquet will feature noted legal scholar Michael A. Olivas speaking on the topic, “San Antonio and the Gulf Coast in the Post-WW II Latino Legal Imagination: Notes from an Accidental Historian.”

A highlight of this year’s meeting is a reception on Friday evening at the Alamo, hosted by Texas General Land Office. Afterwards, we will stroll across Alamo Plaza to the historic Menger Hotel for the Presidential Banquet where I will address the topic, “Lyndon’s Granddaddy: Sam Johnson, Texas Populism, and the Improbable Roots of American Liberalism.”
Throughout the meeting you can place bids in the Silent Auction, which includes private tours, rare books, maps, and unique objects. Publications by some of the region’s leading publishers of history and from rare book dealers will be for sale in the exhibit hall.

Special thanks go to the Program Committee chaired by Robert Wooster that put together an entertaining and enlightening program: Please note the generous contributions to the annual meeting by our sponsors, whose names are listed on the preceding page. Once again our TSHA staff has done an outstanding job in planning and executing the meeting. When you see them, please take the time to thank them.

May you enjoy the meeting and come away with a renewed commitment to the study of Texas History.

Gregg Cantrell
TSHA President 2013-2014

Dear TSHA Members and Friends,

It’s November as I write. The days are shorter and colder; the semester is coming to a close; and the holidays loom. Already I am looking forward to spring and especially the Association’s Annual Meeting in San Antonio, where the Texas history faithful will gather during its high holy days. There is nothing like a TSHA Annual Meeting for seeing old friends and for being energized and inspired by the latest work being done in the field. I am expecting this meeting—with receptions at the Witte Museum and the Alamo, the Presidential Banquet being held in the ballroom of the historic Menger hotel, and the conference headquarters on the beautiful Riverwalk—to be one of the best ever.

The range and quality of the scholarship reflected in this program is a testament to the vitality of the study of Texas history and the commitment of our members. In order for Texas history to remain a dynamic and active discipline, scholars who work in the field must have venues for presenting their research and findings and for communicating and collaborating. This is how the discipline moves forward and how the history of our state evolves, and this is what the TSHA Annual Meeting has provided for more than a century.

I want to thank President Gregg Cantrell, the Association’s Board of Directors, and the administrators of the University of North Texas for all that they do to ensure that this organization continues to thrive and provide a scholarly foundation for the extraordinary heritage that we share and that we have devoted our lives to preserving and perpetuating. See you in San Antonio.

With Texas Pride,

J. Kent Calder

Beyond Myths & Legends

Kenneth W. Howell

Jennifer S. Lawrence

Beyond Myths and Legends: A Narrative History of Texas moves beyond the myths and legends that cloud our understanding of the past and presents a straightforward narrative history of Texas from the prehistoric era to the present. The focus is primarily on the cultural, social, and political history of the state but also includes economic and military history as well.

Texas Voices

Keith J. Volanto

Texas Voices: Documents & Biographical Sketches contains five primary source documents, three compact biographies, and photographs for each chapter. Selections cover earlier periods of Texas History such as Exploration, the Spanish Era, Mexican Texas, the Texas Revolution, the Texas Republic, the Civil War, and Reconstruction, but also provide a wealth of information on twentieth-century Texas topics including the Progressive Era, the 1920s, the Great Depression, World War II, the Civil Rights Movement, and Modern Texas Politics, Economics, and Culture.

Governing institutions and public policy are a reflection of Texas’s historical development, demographic patterns, cultural development, and even geographic considerations. These factors help one to fully grasp the meaning of the policy decision process, which impacts every government action.

Virginia Stowitts-Traina is the Chairperson of the Social Sciences Department at Palo Alto College in San Antonio, Texas. She is past president of the Women’s Political Caucus of Bexar County and serves as President of the San Antonio Chapter of the League of Women Voters.

The House Divided deals with the era of the Civil War and Reconstruction not only through discussions of political struggles and military conflict but also describing the lives of ordinary people, men and women, black and white, through the antebellum era, the war, and Reconstruction. Special features include highlighted stories to involve student interest and a selection of primary sources. New material has been added on Texas and the Trans-Mississippi Theatre including Hispanics, Native Americans, and European immigrants.

In the Governor’s Shadow
The True Story of Ma and Pa Ferguson
Carol O’Keefe Wilson
In 1915 Governor “Pa” Ferguson won the office based on his anti-Prohibition campaign. But his secrets ultimately led to his impeachment. He then launched a crusade to regain power by assisting his wife, Miriam, in a successful bid for the governorship. Hardcover $29.95.

Captain W. W. Withenbury’s 1838-1842 “Red River Reminiscences”
Edited and Annotated by Jacques D. Bagur
Jacques Bagur has selected and annotated 39 letters describing three steamboat voyages on the upper Red River. Captain Withenbury was a master of character and incident, and his profiles include three signers of the Texas Declaration of Independence. Hardcover $32.95.

The Horrell Wars
Feuding in Texas and New Mexico
David Johnson
The Horrell brothers of Lampasas, Texas, have been portrayed as ruthless killers, but Johnson paints a different picture. Their initial confrontation with the State Police marked the most disastrous shootout in Reconstruction history. The brothers fled to New Mexico and became entangled in what would later evolve into the Lincoln County War. They then returned to Texas to the Horrell-Higgins War. Hardcover $24.95.

A Lawless Breed
John Wesley Hardin, Texas Reconstruction, and Violence in the Wild West
Chuck Parsons and Norman Wayne Brown
The meticulously researched biography of a premier Texas killer. Now available in paperback $19.95.
