Welcome to the 115th Annual Meeting

The Texas State Historical Association returns to El Paso for the 2011 Annual Meeting at the Camino Real Hotel. The meeting will commemorate the anniversaries of three events that figure prominently in the history of Texas: the centennial of the Mexican Revolution that began in November 1910, the sesquicentennial of the start of the American Civil War in 1861, and the 175th anniversary of Texas Independence in 1836.

Under the leadership of Chief Historian Randolph B. Campbell and Program Chair Joseph G. Dawson, the Program Committee has done an excellent job of organizing this year’s program, resulting in thirty-nine sessions covering a broad range of topics in Texas history.

Begin the special events with the Women in Texas History Luncheon on Thursday at noon. The presentation of the Liz Carpenter Award will be especially meaningful with the passing of Ms. Carpenter on March 20, 2010. Ellen Temple will begin the program with a history of what led to the creation of the Liz Carpenter Award for Research in Texas Women’s History. Then, Michael L. Gillette, Director of Humanities Texas, will give a tribute to Liz Carpenter and a historical perspective to her life with material from the archives of the LBJ Library.

Thursday evening’s Presidential Reception will welcome Merline Pitre as the 2011-2012 President at the El Paso Museum of History. Those attending will view the Museum’s exhibit from Spain, El Hilo de la Memoria: Three Centuries of Spanish Presence in the United States of America and portions of The Other Side of the Mexican Revolution—El Paso.

For the Book Lovers’ and Texana Collectors’ Breakfast on Friday, Adair Margo, who founded the Tom Lea Institute in 2009, will discuss the native El Pasoan and his many works, both visual and written. At noon, the Association will honor significant contributions to the study of Texas history at the Fellows Luncheon and Presentation of Awards.

A Live Auction will be held in the historic Dome Bar of the Camino Real Hotel following the sessions end on Friday afternoon. Lonn Taylor and Light Cummins will share the role of auctioneer as we all bid on unique and rare objects.

Those attending the President’s Banquet on Friday evening will gather at the El Paso Museum of Art. Following the reception, I will Following the Reception, I will present Evan Smith of The Texas Tribune to address The Disconnect: Priorities and Resources in 21st Century Texas before we enjoy dinner and fellowship. Wind up the last day of the meeting on Saturday with a tour of El Paso sites that figured in the Mexican Revolution.

I thank the members of the 2011 Program Committee for compiling a wide-ranging and diverse collection of sessions. In addition to Joseph G. Dawson, the Program Committee consisted of Angela Boswell, Steven L. Davis, Ricky F. Dobbs, W. M. Dulaney, Charles D. Grear, Benjamin Johnson, Anthony Knopp, J’Nell L. Pate, Rebecca Sharpless, Andrew J. Torget, and Emilio Zamora. With the leadership of the Chair, J. Sam Moore Jr., the Local Arrangements Committee has worked tirelessly throughout the year raising funds, securing sites, and creating events for the meeting. The committee members are: Julia Bussinger, Lillian Crouch, Maceo C. Dailey Jr., Mary Jo Melby, Jack W. Niland, Bernard J. Sargent, Michael Tomor, and Patricia H. Worthington. Chaired by Ellen Temple, Luci B. Johnson and Stephanie Cole served on the Women in Texas History Luncheon Committee and arranged for the event’s speaker. The Association and I are particularly indebted to the El Paso County Historical Society members and their officers, Lillian Crouch, Mary Jo Melby, and Patricia H. Worthington. They have hosted us and provided all the images in this program from their archives. Finally, I thank all of you for allowing me the privilege of serving as your president.

Enjoy celebrating Texas History Month with your friends at the Texas State Historical Association’s 2011 Annual Meeting.

Dianne Garrett Powell
TSHA President 2010–2011

Dear TSHA Members and Friends,

Each year when I look at the program for the Annual Meeting, I am awed by the extraordinary range of scholarship that it represents. This year, of course, is no exception. Having worked for and been associated with a number of state historical organizations over the years, I can say with certainty that I know of no other in which scholars are so active. The TSHA Annual Meeting is a testament to the vitality of the study of Texas history at the highest levels. In addition, the Annual Meeting represents one of the Association’s greatest strengths, and that is its ability to bring together academic and nonacademic historians and the general public.

With the revival and rejuvenation of our silent and live auctions in the last couple of years, collectors are again an important component of our meeting as well. It is always gratifying to see this mixture of scholars and history enthusiasts each year at the Annual Meeting because it is what the Association is all about. Whether you are a tenured professor working on your tenth book or a recent arrival to the state who wants to begin learning about its fascinating history, you are welcome at the Annual Meeting. Longtime members as well as those who are new to the organization will enjoy attending the sessions, events, and receptions; browsing the exhibit hall; and bidding on items in the auctions.

We look forward to seeing you in El Paso, recently named the number one safest city in the United States with a population of more than 500,000 by CQ Press. The residents are ready to roll out the red carpet for us, and you will not want to miss this meeting. Trust me.

With Texas Pride,

J. Kent Calder
Executive Director

_The headquarters building at Fort Bliss drew soldiers and citizens from El Paso for a parade during World War I. Since Fort Bliss was founded in 1848, there has always been a close relationship with El Paso._
Americans were curious about the Mexican Revolution. Since Madero's camp was just across the Rio Grande from the smelter, everyone could get a good look at the activities. Insurrectionists frequently came to El Paso and were known personally to many of its citizens.

Texas Government and Politics in the New Millennium

Virginia Stowitts-Traina

Governing institutions and public policy are a reflection of Texas’s historical development, demographic patterns, cultural development, and even geographic considerations. These factors help one to fully grasp the meaning of the policy decision process, which impacts every government action. Available Fall 2011.

Virginia Stowitts-Traina is the Chairperson of the Social Sciences Department at Palo Alto College in San Antonio, Texas. She is past president of the Women’s Political Caucus of Bexar County and serves as President of the San Antonio Chapter of the League of Women Voters.

The House Divided

Louise Mayo
Charles D. Grear

The House Divided deals with the era of the Civil War and Reconstruction not only through discussions of political struggles and military conflict but also describing the lives of ordinary people, men and women, black and white, through the antebellum era, the war, and Reconstruction. Special features include highlighted stories to involve student interest and a selection of primary sources. New material has been added on Texas and the Trans-Mississippi Theatre including Hispanics, Native Americans, and European immigrants. House Divided will be available Spring 2011.

_Beyond Myths and Legends: A Narrative History of Texas_ moves beyond the myths and legends that cloud our understanding of the past and presents a straightforward narrative history of Texas from the prehistoric era to the present. The focus is primarily on the cultural, social, and political history of the state but also includes economic and military history as well.

Texas Speaks
Keith J. Volanto

_Texas Voices: Documents & Biographical Sketches_ contains five primary source documents, three compact biographies, and photographs for each chapter. Selections cover earlier periods of Texas History such as Exploration, the Spanish Era, Mexican Texas, the Texas Revolution, the Texas Republic, the Civil War, and Reconstruction, but also provide a wealth of information on twentieth-century Texas topics including the Progressive Era, the 1920s, the Great Depression, World War II, the Civil Rights Movement, and Modern Texas Politics, Economics, and Culture.

"Masterfully edited and annotated, these personal letters of a young American surveyor paint a detailed and colorful portrait of the men and women, Indians, Mexicans, and Americans of the border region at the moment of its making."

—John Mack Faragher, co-author of The American West: An Interpretive History

“This is a gem; Gardner’s lively letters will be a delight to anyone interested in the history of the Southwest.”—Joseph Werne, author of The Imaginary Line: A History of the United States and Mexican Boundary Survey, 1848–1857

“This treasure trove of information about the people and places along the border is a valuable addition to the primary sources available to researchers who study early U.S.-Mexican border history.”—Richard Griswold del Castillo, author of The Treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo: A Legacy of Conquest

Discover the depth of your Texas roots—discover the Texas Folklore Society.

The Texas Folklore Society has been preserving and presenting the lore of Texas and the Southwest for more than a century.

The annual meeting, held in a different city each year, is the most unique academic conference in existence. Members—sometimes entire families—gather to sing and play folk instruments, experience local attractions, and share information on the lore of this state—its customs, traditions, superstitions, music, art, and legends.

The Society has published 66 full-length books in its regular series, and supported the publication of dozens of other books. Just one of the many benefits of membership is receiving the annual publication.
